

Appendix 2

Fatah hate, violence, and terror promotion continues in 2017

Introduction:

Whereas this report Fatah Votes for Terror focuses on Fatah's terror promotion during the Palestinian terror wave of 2015- 2016, it is important to note that even when there is no active terror campaign underway, Fatah continues to promote hatred, violence, and terror. This appendix is a partial collection of items Palestinian Media Watch has documented in just the first two and a half months of 2017, organized by date.

Fatah parade celebrates terrorist who murdered 37

Headline: "Fatah held a military parade for the anniversary of its Launch in Bethlehem"

Posters of Dalal Mughrabi, PA Chairman Mahmoud Abbas, and Yasser Arafat

Text on poster: "Bethlehem branch of the Fatah Movement"

Fatah Central Committee Deputy Secretary and Head of the Supreme Council for Sport and Youth Affairs Jibril Rajoub holds child at the parade.

“The Fatah branch in Bethlehem held a military parade today, Sunday [Jan. 1, 2017], on the 52nd anniversary of the outbreak of the Palestinian revolution and the Launch (Intilqa) of the Fatah Movement.

Taking part in the military parade were the organizational branches, the student organizations, groups of masked people, and the Sisters of Dalal [committee of Fatah’s Shabiba student movement], who passed through the streets of the city...

Taking part in the reception of the military parade were several of the new members of the [Fatah] Movement Central Committee, heads of the [PA] Security Forces, secretaries of the organizational branches, and the official and popular institutions...

[Fatah] Movement Central Committee member ‘Abu Jihad’ [Mahmoud] Al-Aloul gave a speech in which he blessed the Palestinian people on the day of the Launch and Christmas, and emphasized the historic role of Fatah from the revolution until the PA and the building of the institutions of the future Palestinian state.”

[Ma’an, independent Palestinian news agency, Jan. 1, 2017]

Intilqa - "the Launch" refers to the beginning of Fatah on Jan. 1, 1965, when it carried out its first terror attack against Israel, attempting to blow up Israel's National Water Carrier

Jibril Rajoub also holds the following positions: Head of the Supreme Council for Sport and Youth Affairs, Chairman of the Palestinian Football Association, Chairman of the Palestine Olympic Committee, and Chairman of the Palestinian Scout Association (PSA).

Fatah leader: Dalal Mughrabi (murderer of 37), teaches that "Palestinian woman is a partner in the national struggle"

Official PA TV program Panorama of the Hour interviews former Fatah Central Committee member Amal Hamad:

“Dalal Mughrabi (i.e., terrorist, murdered 37, 12 of them children) led a group of her comrades in quality operations, and in a quality operation she established a [Palestinian] state inside a bus.

Dalal was a woman, a sister from Fatah, and a fighter. She bore the flag from the beginning, and defended the Palestinian national project, defended the Palestinian people, resisted the occupier, and sent messages in every direction. The most important is that the Palestinian woman is a partner in the national struggle in all the ways and means. She is the mother, wife, sister, beloved, and partner, but she is also part of the resistance and the fighter who carries a rifle. She is the prisoner, and she is the Martyrdom-seeker. If we are to talk about the sisters, we have female Martyrdom-seekers from the first Intifada (i.e., Palestinian wave of violence and terror against Israel, 1987-1993) and second Intifada (i.e., PA terror campaign 2000-2005)."

Fatah TV music video with footage of stabbing attack encourages Martyrdom for Al-Aqsa: “O our Martyr, we must follow in your footsteps”

Fatah-run Awdah TV, music video “Heroes of Al-Aqsa” by singer Firas Al-Burini

Lyrics: "Our Jerusalem, we're at your service when you ask... Our Jerusalem is a jewel of gold in the crown of the Arabs O sun that lights up the homeland and is not extinguished O [Israeli Prime Minister] Netanyahu, listen or we'll make you listen Your army needs to disappear from Palestine..."

Visuals of: Stabbing attack by terrorist Muhammad Sa'id Ali, who wounded 3 Israeli police officers
Clashes between Palestinian rioters and Israeli soldiers

"No matter how wide our Al-Aqsa is, there will be no place for you (i.e., Israel)
It won't allow a division (i.e., of prayer times for Muslims and Jews)
If you are not convinced, we'll convince you by force...
O our Martyr, we must follow in your footsteps
The homeland's wound has been healed by your blow [against Israel]."

[Fatah-run Awdah TV, Jan. 9, 2017]

"Division" of the Al-Aqsa Mosque refers to a proposed law (May 2013) being reviewed in Israeli Parliament that would allow for both Jews and Muslims to pray on the Temple Mount - what the Palestinians call the Al-Aqsa Mosque plaza. The law seeks to designate separate prayer times and areas of the site for Muslims and Jews. However, Israeli PM Netanyahu has stated on many occasions that the Israeli government has no intention of changing the status quo on the Temple Mount, which means Jews are allowed to enter the Temple Mount, but cannot pray there or engage in any type of worship.

Fatah official: Moving the US embassy to Jerusalem will “will drag the region into a situation of tension, more violence, and a threat to the interests of the US”

Headline: “Radwan: Transferring the American embassy to Jerusalem is aggression”

“Fatah Revolutionary Council member Raed Radwan said that transferring the American embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem, if this is indeed carried out, is a type of aggression towards the Palestinian people, its holy places, and its principles, and an explicit declaration that the American embassy sides with the Israeli occupation.

In a radio interview yesterday [Jan. 10, 2017], Radwan emphasized the unity of the Palestinian people against the attempts to legitimize the settlements and the occupation. He said: 'There are institutions of the American administration and state institutions which will prevent Trump from fulfilling this promise, which will drag the region into a situation of tension, more violence, and a threat to the interests of the US in the Arab and Islamic world.'

Fatah glorifies murderer of 9: "He loved the game 'Jews and Arabs'... He always played the role of the Arab who, with his simple weapon, attacked the treacherous Jew"

Image and text posted on the official Fatah Facebook page

In the upper right-hand corner of the image appears the logo of the Al-Aqsa Martyrs' Brigades (Fatah's military wing), which includes the Dome of the Rock and two rifles.

Posted text: "The anniversary of the death as a Martyr (Shahid) of quick-responding Raed Al-Karmi

Jan. 14 of every year is the anniversary of the death as a Martyr of quick-responding heroic commander Raed Sa'id Al-Karmi 'Abu Filastin' from the city of Tulkarem, and of the outstanding founding commanders of the Al-Aqsa Martyrs' Brigades (i.e., Fatah's military wing) in the West Bank districts...

He was known for his nationalism from his childhood and went through all of the stages connected to the national struggle. He was a simple and modest man who did not have a higher education, as he did not complete junior high school studies, and in this way a difficult life course began that influenced the shaping and formation of his national personality later on...

He loved the game ‘Jews and Arabs,’ a game that children of the neighborhood would play. He always played the role of the Arab who, with his simple weapon, attacked the treacherous Jew who occupied his homeland and settled in it...

Fear began to permeate the ranks of the occupation army when Al-Karmi succeeded in killing approximately 12 Israeli soldiers and civilians (sic., 9), and thus a decision was made to assassinate him by the most senior leader of the [Zionist] entity state, criminal [former Israeli Prime Minister Ariel] Sharon...

Our heroic Martyr Al-Karmi died from an explosive that the Zionist Israeli Security Agency planted in the wall of the cemetery, next to which he passed on his way to his wife in the eastern part of the city of Tulkarem on Jan. 14, 2002... and the brigades declared a renewal of their armed activity against the occupation.

The Martyrdom-seeking (Istish'had) operations began (i.e., suicide bombings), and the burning of the [second] Intifada (i.e., PA terror campaign 2000-2005) began to grow. After the assassination of Al-Karmi the resistance fighters imposed a curfew on the residents, soldiers, and settlements of the Palestinian West Bank and the Gaza Strip, and succeeded in carrying out a number of operations on the same day on which Al-Karmi died as a Martyr, including the attack on a convoy of Israeli soldiers, which led to great losses among their ranks (1 soldier was murdered and another wounded –Ed.).

The following day (sic., Jan. 17, 2002) a quality response took place, as self-sacrificing fighter (Fida'i) Abd Al-Salam Hassouna succeeded in crossing the occupation's checkpoints and carrying out a quality Martyrdom-seeking operation in one of the halls of joy, and turned it into a hall of sadness (i.e., murdered 6 at a Bat Mitzvah celebration). Likewise, Martyr Sa'id Ramadan carried out a Martyrdom-seeking operation (i.e., terror attack, 2 murdered) in Jerusalem, and a response also came from the brigade of female Martyrdom-seekers, as heroic Martyr Wafa Idris carried out her heroic operation (i.e., first Palestinian female suicide bombing, 1 murdered) that sowed fear among the sons of Zion.

The response in Gaza was hard, and came from a number of Martyrdom-seekers – prime among them heroic Martyr Muhammad Al-Qasir who carried out the Kissufim checkpoint operation (i.e., terrorist attack, 3 murdered) in southern Gaza, Martyrdom-seeker Ayman Samir Joudeh who carried out his heroic operation and invaded the office compound of the Beit Hanoun-Erez checkpoint and eliminated all those who were in it (sic., Joudeh murdered 1 before being shot and killed by Israeli border policemen at the scene), and the invasion operation (i.e., terrorist attack, 1 murdered) of Martyrdom-seeker Muhammad Al-Qattawi into the settlement of Netzarim in the center of the Gaza Strip.

In the month following the death as a Martyr of Al-Karmi, the coward Sharon's decision cost 133 killed Israelis (sic., from Jan. 14 – Feb. 14, 2002, a total of 23 people were murdered by Palestinian terrorists) and hundreds were wounded and disabled.”

O masses of the heroic Palestinian people,
O descendants of the first Martyrs (Shahids)

O protectors of Jerusalem and the holy sites,

The reckless inclination to transfer the American embassy to Jerusalem by the one who leads the new American administration, [US President-elect Donald] Trump, constitutes a severe violation of all of the international conventions and norms and the crossing of all of the red lines. This constitutes a continuation of the policy of blindly siding with the occupation state, and the implementation of this inclination means an explicit and open declaration of war on the legitimate rights of our people.

O masses of the Palestinian people,

Your movement [Fatah] – the movement of the Martyrs, wounded, and prisoners, which initiated the first Launch (Intilaaqa) and led the outbreak of the first Intifada (i.e., Palestinian wave of violence and terror against Israel, 1987-1993) and the intifadas and uprisings that came after it, is still loyal to the promise of the Martyrs and the sighs of the prisoners and wounded. Abbas: If US embassy is moved to Jerusalem "it will destroy the peace process"

Headline: "The [PA] president: We adhere to peace, and transferring the American embassy to Jerusalem will destroy the peace process"

"During a joint press conference with his Polish counterpart, [Polish President Andrzej Duda, PA] President [Mahmoud Abbas] warned against transferring the American embassy in Israel from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. He said... "If this step is taken, it will destroy the peace process.' He added: 'We are not getting ahead of ourselves... it is better that we wait until he enters the White House and we hear from him directly as president of the US. Then there will be a response to every action, and if he decides to transfer the embassy to Jerusalem we will have a political and diplomatic response. We hope that it will not happen.'

The president emphasized his adherence to peace as an option from which there is no return. He noted that this year is likely to be the last opportunity to speak and act for the implementation of the two-state solution."

PA and Fatah officials threaten consequences of moving the US embassy to Jerusalem

Headline: "The West Bank rises up – no to the transfer of the American embassy to Jerusalem"

"Fatah Central Committee member Jamal Muhaisen said... 'Transferring the embassy will destroy the possibilities of peace, and the response to it if it is implemented will be confrontation with the occupation on the ground by all possible means (term refers to events that include violence against Israeli civilians such as rock-throwing, stabbings, and shootings -Ed.), alongside the political and legal actions of the leadership and the cancellation of the recognition of the State of Israel.' ...

In Hebron, Fatah branches in the Hebron and Bethlehem districts organized a protest vigil yesterday as a sign of opposition to the transfer of the American embassy from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. District Governor of Hebron Kamel Hamid, Fatah Central Committee member Abbas Zaki, PA Parliament (Legislative Council) member Sahr Al-Qawasmi, and several Fatah Revolutionary Council members participated in the event...

Fatah Central Committee member Abbas Zaki mentioned the danger of the decision to transfer the American embassy to Jerusalem, and warned against the danger of the position and its consequences. He noted that the Fatah Central Committee has decided to oppose this decision by all means (i.e., including violence).'

Fatah Revolutionary Council member Khawla Al-Azraq said: 'This [protest] vigil was organized at the initiative of Fatah to respond to the unbalanced American decision that exposes the truth of the position of the US that is biased in favor of Israel, which denies the rights of the Palestinian people to security and the establishment of its independent state.' She explained that the event is the beginning of a plan of action for a struggle that will be implemented on the ground ...

Fatah Central Committee member Mahmoud Al-Aloul emphasized in a speech on behalf of the national activity factions that the occupation is committing many crimes against the Palestinian people on a daily basis, which are being joined by President Trump's intention to transfer the American embassy to Jerusalem, which means the destruction of every agreement and any hope for the establishment of the Palestinian state, and the perpetuation of the occupation. Al-Aloul added that the Palestinian people is prepared for any sacrifice for Jerusalem and the land of Palestine, and cannot agree to this step."

Fatah leader Nabil Shaath: The armed struggle is our right

Fatah-run Awdah TV program The Story of a Photograph, hosting Fatah Commissioner of International Relations Nabil Shaath

Fatah Commissioner of International Relations Nabil Shaath: "Our cause is just. Our right to the armed struggle is an indisputable right. The Israelis didn't come here through negotiations. They did not come at our request. They are usurpers who came with weapons to murder and tried to expel [us]. They succeeded in expelling a large part of our people by force. Therefore, our right to the armed struggle is indisputable... We are humane people. We want to liberate our homeland. After we liberate our homeland, we will have no problem with living in a democratic state in which Jews, Muslims and Christians live - in a Palestinian Arab democratic state... [As a Palestinian] - your cause is just. You are occupied. Your land was stolen. Your rights were taken. Therefore, I've never seen any problem with carrying out the armed struggle while diplomatic and political activity supporting your cause is being carried out."

Fatah meetings held “in preparation for a fierce popular intifada... using all means” if US embassy is moved to Jerusalem

Official PA TV program The Occupied Capital, on the transfer of the American embassy

Deputy Secretary of Fatah in Jerusalem, Shadi Mattour:

"We in Fatah, at all levels of the movement and the leadership, have said that this is a declaration of war, the collapse of the peace process, and that it will cause an explosion in the street. Fatah has begun a series of meetings with all of the field leaders at the branches, in Shabiba (youth movement), and all its offices, in preparation for a fierce popular intifada if this decision is carried out. We won't be embarrassed or hesitate to take to the streets and return to confronting the occupation using all means (i.e., including violence) if this decision is implemented. If the embassy is moved, we think that America and the entire world will be witness to the collapse of the peace process and instability, and not only in Palestine. Yesterday, Fatah said in a statement that this will cause an explosion in the entire world."

This is because it constituted an additional new beginning of the Palestinian resistance due to its deep influence, as it spread the spirit of victory in the hearts of the Palestinians and struck the Israeli occupation like lightning.

Zaki said in an interview with Radio Mawtini today, Saturday [March 11, 2017]: ‘On the 39th anniversary of the death as a Martyr of Palestinian fighter Dalal Mughrabi, we recall the planner of the operation, Martyr commander Abu Jihad (i.e., former head of the PLO terror organization’s military wing), who turned Martyr fighter Dalal into a legend who surpassed all of the military ranks and into a turning point in the military operations against the occupation...’

Zaki said: ‘The occupation is still holding the body of Martyr Dalal Mughrabi for the last 39 years due to its fear of her memory (sic., Mughrabi’s body was to be handed over to Hezbollah in Lebanon in 2008, but was found to have been lost due to subterranean erosion in the cemetery for terrorists and enemy soldiers).’ He added that the occupation state of ‘Israel’ is the only one that is losing by holding the bodies of the Martyrs.

“In a large ceremony under the patronage of [Fatah Central Committee Secretary] Jibril Rajoub, the Bethlehem District and its Social Solidarity Committee launched the first annual ‘Female Stars of Bethlehem Ceremony 2017’ honor ceremony, through which a group of female fighters alongside female creators who excel in their professional and daily lives will be honored every year...

Rajoub noted that the honoring of the five fighters and 10 creators is part of the ongoing Palestinian national struggle. He noted that the women of Palestine draw from the giving and struggle of the first female Martyrs (Shahids) of Palestine, and prime among them Dalal Mughrabi (i.e., terrorist who led murder of 37, 12 of them children) and Laila Khaled (i.e., terrorist who took part in airplane hijackings), who succeeded in raising the Palestinian voice high and sounding it for the whole world.”
